Female curved shape using VASER liposculpture

Ideal female body shape is always a pursuit of beauty. How to achieve nice body curvature, either by traditional or by UAL( assisted liposuction) depends on the design and technique to achieve this goal. VASER, stands for Vibration Amplification Sound Emission Resonance, which can emulsify fat tissue into small particles. By this procedure we can design different depth of aspirated fat without difficulty, then the waistline or Venus line can be created. Also, the collagen tissue preservation can also make skin tightening and faster recovery compared to traditional liposuction. Comparing traditional liposuction, superficial fat layer can be emulsified by VASER Liposuction, which can achieve the goal of liposculpture. Sculpture of body mainly based on the knowledge of human anatomy, by this we can create beautiful curvature and correct linear of the lower abdomen, not to be artificial. Here I share my experience of VASER Liposculpture for female shaped curvature.

Biography

Huang, chichen has his expertise in design, practice and passion in improving the shape and curvature of female body. His concept of design based on the human anatomy and thorough understanding of VASER equipment and technique. He is also the expert of breast augmentation, by combining these two technique the result is promising. He has built a rational approach from non-invasive fat reduction treatment to high definition liposculpture and have preliminary fat stem cell research. Also, he is a injectable instructor for young doctors to achieve stable result.
