

33rd International Conference on Psychiatry and Mental Health

C C Carmack

Assistant Professor, Psychological Health, & Learning Sciences Department, College of Education, University of Houston, USA

With the successful completion of 32stInternational Conference on Psychiatry and Mental Health 2020 in Brisbane, Australia,Conference Series is glad to announce the 33rd International Conference on Psychiatry and Mental Health on June 22-23, 2021 in Tokyo, Japan. The event is enlightened with the theme “Guidance for the public on the Psychiatry, Mental health and well-being aspects of COVID-19.”

The 2020 conference was initiated with the honorable presence of the keynote forum. Highlights included:

- The role of therapeutic stress induced cellular plasticity in promoting therapeutic resistance in glioblastoma Presented by:Atique Ahmed, Fienberg School of Medicine, Northwestern University, USA, and;
- Does educational level influence sustained employment in patients with schizophrenia? Presented by: NigilaRavichandran, Institute of Mental Health, Singapore.

Psychiatry and Mental Health2021 will be hosting presentations highlightingPsychiatry and Mental Health, Mental Health Disorders, Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, Addiction Disorders, Midwifery and Women’s Health, Sleep Disorder and Medicine, Psychosis-Medication, Counseling and Early Intervention, and many more.

The International Conference on Psychiatry and Mental Health intends to deliver an outstanding program and platform for the exchange of ideas,provide authoritative views by leading scientists covering the entire spectrum of research in psychological disorders, and the sharing of cross-cultural experiences regarding various treatment procedures.

Psychiatry and Mental Health2021 is a unique forum thatwill bring together worldwide-distinguished academics in the field of psychology and psychiatry, as well as psychiatry researchers, public health professionals, scientists, academic scientists, industry researchers, and scholars to discuss and present about state-of-the-art research and technologies. The Conference will feature many exciting academic programs including multiple panels, workshops, affinity group lunches, paper presentations, and scientific sessions by reputed psychiatrists from all over the country.

“33rd International Conference on Psychiatry and Mental health” which is going to be held on June 22-23, 2021 at Tokyo, Japan. The theme of the conference is “Guidance for the public on the Psychiatry, Mental health and well-being aspects of COVID-19”. This conference is going to cover the entire field related to Psychiatry and Mental health, its complication and the management and it also cover what is the innovative treatment related to their disorders. We are looking forward to being part of this collaborative gathering of key innovators and thought leaders from across the medical and health spectrum. For more information or for opportunities to attend, speak, or sponsor at this year’s conference.

You will be getting an opportunity towards;

- Keynote Presentations
- Oral Presentations
- Poster Presentations
- Workshops
- Symposia
- Young Researchers Forum (YRF)
- Video Presentations
- E-posters
- Exhibitions
- Sponsorship
- Collaborations

How to cite the article: C C Carmack “33rd International Conference on Psychiatry and Mental Health” abnormal and behavioral psychology.

Address for Correspondence: C C Carmack, Assistant Professor, Psychological Health, & Learning Sciences Department, College of Education, University of Houston, USA

Copyright: © 2021 Carmack CC. This is an open-access article distributed under the terms of the creative commons attribution license which permits unrestricted use, the creative commons attribution license which permits unrestricted use.