Cancer Science is a wide field that covers almost every branch of cancer research and therapy. Cancers are a group of diseases in which abnormal cells violently develop and spread in the body. More than 100 different types of cancer affect humans. Internationally, it is the second leading cause of death, accounting for one in every seven deaths worldwide. Technologies in the field of Cancer Science are improving promptly. For example, some tumors can be treated with highly sophisticated precision external beam radiation therapy such as proton beam therapy. Some patients can be cured, but for others the emphasis is on effective palliative care and improving quality of life. Cancer Conferences expresses its effort to jettison the cancer from the world.

The Cancer Science 2020 is an event that aims to explore the ways to innovate in the diverse fields of Medical, Pharmaceutical, Clinical, Engineering, Science, Technology and Business. Cancer Science & Therapy deals with the study of basic researches in the field of cancer & oncology. It involves in identifying causes and to develop strategies for diagnosis, prevention, treatment and cure for this dreadful disease.
