

Editorial Note for Journal of Dermatology and Dermatologic

I am delighted to introduce the Journal of Dermatology and Dermatologic (DDD) keen in publishing the latest advancements and innovations in screening, diagnosis, therapy, and cure in the field of clinical, medical and applied dermatology. The journal focuses on providing most comprehensive and reliable information in advanced areas of dermatology such as cosmetic surgery and plastic surgery. I am pleased to announce that, all issues of the 6th Edition were published online well within the time and the print issues were also brought out and dispatched within 30 days of publishing the issue online during the year of 2019.

Journal of Dermatology and Dermatologic also announces its new association with Hilaris group for Archiving, Journal maintenance, financial purpose and support. Association with Hilaris group has increased Readership Metrics (By Google Analytics) of the Journal which can be accessed at Google Analytics Metrics. As such, the journal aspires to be vibrant, engaging and accessible, and at the same time integrative and challenging.

During the calendar year of 2019, DDD received a total of 80 manuscripts, out of which 38 articles (70%) were rejected in the preliminary screening due to plagiarism or being out of the format and peer review process. A total of 110 research scientists from all over the world reviewed the articles published in volume 9. Average publication lag time of an article was further reduced to 2-3 weeks. Average download per article is increasing and on an average there are 40 downloads per paper. All these are promising signs. We could reach this stage through the constant support of Board Members and intellectual generosity of the readers and contributors (authors and reviewers).

I take this opportunity to acknowledge the contribution of Editor-in-Chief: Jean C Chamcheu, during the final editing of articles published and the support rendered by the editorial assistants: Charlene Perlman in bringing out issues in time. Lastly I would like to express my gratitude to all the authors, reviewers, the publisher, the advisory and the editorial board of the Journal, the office bearers for their support in bringing out yet another volume and look forward to their unrelenting support for the successful release of upcoming editions

Needless to say, any papers that you wish to submit, either individually or collaboratively, are much appreciated and will make a substantial contribution to the early development and success of the journal. Best wishes and thank you in advance for your contribution to Journal of Dermatology and Dermatologic.
