About the Journal

The Journal of Metabolic Syndrome (JMS) is an Open Access peer-reviewed journal that publishes original research works in the areas related to the field such as increased blood pressure, a high blood sugar level, excess body fat around the waist and abnormal cholesterol levels that occur together, increasing your risk of heart disease, stroke and diabetes. Most of the disorders associated with metabolic syndrome have no symptoms, although a large waist circumference is a visible sign. If your blood sugar is very high, you might experience signs and symptoms of diabetes including increased thirst and urination, fatigue, and blurred vision.

Journal of Metabolic Syndrome (JMS) is a scholarly publishing journal that aims to publish the most complete and reliable source of information on the discoveries and current developments in the form of original articles, review articles, case reports, short communications, etc. in all areas of the field and making them freely available through online without any restrictions or any other subscriptions to researchers worldwide.

The journal is using Editorial Manager System for quality in peer review process. Editorial Manager is an online manuscript submission, review and tracking systems. Review processing is performed by the editorial board members of Metabolic Syndrome or outside experts; at least two independent reviewer's approval followed by the editor is required for the acceptance of any citable manuscript. Authors may submit manuscripts and track their progress through the system, hopefully to publication. Reviewers can download manuscripts and submit their opinions to the editor. Editors can manage the whole submission/review/revise/publish process.

Why Special Issue

This special issue has been introduced to recognize those researchers who are with us from the starting of the Conference and kept their believewith us regarding the quality of the conference and the publication. Their continuous support make the Conference as well as the supporting journal to the conference successful and recognized by the international experts. Here in honor to those supporters, those speakers, those submitters, those researchers we are releasing the special issue with the abstracts accepted for the conference, full length articles submitted to the conference and with the short communication submitted to the conference.
