We all know that healthcare today is faced with ever greater challenges, while advances in research and innovations may open new possibilities for better health and improved care for cancer patients.

17th International Conference on Oncology Nursing and Cancer Care happened during March 04-05, 2020 at Edinburgh, Scotland is an international arena for frank and challenging dialogue, exploring possibilities and dilemmas associated with advancement in oncology and cancer.

Cancer Nursing 2020 brought together cancer care professionals, thought leaders, doctors, researchers, entrepreneurs, nurses, professors, directors, oncologists at Edinburgh. Over two days, participants were encouraged to share experience, insights and strategies for moving the delivery of exceptional cancer care and permitting the professional well-being of the entire care team.

The format of the meeting involved a mixture of exhibitions, keynote talks, presentations on topical issues, and extensive panel discussions, as well as the introduction of interactive working groups, and plenty of scheduled time for official and informal networking.

The event was carried out through different sessions, in which the discussions were held on the major scientific topics but not limited to: Breast Cancer, Colorectal Cancer, Hepatitis B infection, Microbiome, Oncology, Hepatocellular Carcinoma

The event was embarked with an opening ceremony followed by a series of dynamic lectures delivered by both the members of the Keynote forum and speakers. The adepts who promulgated the theme with their exquisite talk were,

- Anghel Adrian Udrea, Medisprof SRL, Romania
- Dominique Belpomme, Paris University, France
- Surekha Stephen Dongerdrive
- Awa Abdul Carimo, Maputo Central Hospital, Mozambique

Exhibition at Cancer Nursing 2020 was presented by the delegates from Medisprof SRL, Romania who with their hard work and excellent facilities and health care solutions have been certified for their cancer nursing and treatment by ASCO QOPI Certification. We had the esteemed presence of Dr Anghel Adrian Udrea, Dr. Carolina Udrea and Serban Udrea who gave us their time to exhibit about the certification, its necessity and the steps and requirements for achieving the same. They also showed us the benefits and how the process of the certification changed the quality of their health care system and promoted them towards providing the patients around the globe with the best possible care for Cancer.

We were very glad and honored for their presence and exhibition and would like to thank for their support also looking forward to assisting them for future events.

Cancer Nursing 2020 committee would like to present heartiest acknowledgement to all the speakers and delegates whose support and active participation helped us in making the scientific conference successful with their insightful presentation, talks and interesting discussions.

We would like to praise all the award winners for their meritorious performance in the field of Cancer Nursing and are grateful to all and sincerely wishes them success in future endeavors!
