

Dear Mr. Muhammed Abdul Husson,

Greetings for the day!

I'm writing this letter to offer my sincere apologies for the misunderstanding and subsequent misrepresentation of your article titled "Disproving Constancy of Light Speed in Special Relativity". It has come to my attention that my interpretation of your work was flawed, and I deeply regret any harm or inconvenience caused as a result.

I acknowledge that my misinterpretation of your article led to an inaccurate representation of your ideas, which is not only disrespectful but also undermines the integrity of your work. It was never my intention to misrepresent your ideas or discredit your research, and I take full responsibility for the error. I understand the amount of effort, time, and expertise you invested in producing the article, and I genuinely regret the unintended consequences of my misinterpretation. Your work deserves to be accurately portrayed and respected within the academic community and beyond. In light of the situation, we removed the retraction note and updated your article online. I will take immediate steps to correct the mistake and ensure that the accurate information is disseminated to rectify the damage caused.

Once again, I want to extend my sincerest apologies for the misunderstanding and misrepresentation of your work. Your contributions to the field are highly regarded, and I deeply regret any harm caused to your professional reputation. I hope that you can find it in your heart to forgive my mistake and grant me an opportunity to learn from this experience.

Thank you for your understanding and patience. I look forward to hearing from you and taking the necessary steps to rectify the situation.

Yours sincerely,

With Best Regards,

Sofia Lilia

Editorial Manager

Journal of Lasers, Optics & Photonics